been furnished the particulars. Altogether, building lots have been sought after and are in great demand—and the demand is on the increase, and, as a natural consequence, prices are going up.

THE TROUBLE AT SAUCELITO.—On Sunday last at the excursion of the Sansfield Guards and Fenlan Company A, of San Francisco, "carpet-soldier" companies, some trouble was feared, but happily prevented. These valiant soldiers, who probably never made an onslaught on anything but a beefsteak, were put out on guard to prevent any one to approach the town of New Saucelito except those who held excursion tickets. They claimed that they had leased the ferry boat and the town, and "bo jabers" intended to hold the situation. The poor ignorant cusses, under command of as ignorant officers, really imagined that they could prevent the passage of citizens. No words of condemnation are strong enough to apply to the ruffianly horde. L. Story, who has resided at Saucelito for the past twenty years, while passing over his own land, was approached by two brave boys with bayoneted muskets and ordered to halt! Story couldn't see the point of the joke, and asked what in thunder all that humbug meant—and wound up with the assertion that the land belonged to him, told them who he was—got mad, and finally told them to git, or he would see them for trespass. They began to consider things in a different light, and after a little consultation slunk away rather crestfallen. It would be a good idea if the officers of Marin county could be in attendance at some of these Sunday excursions and protect our citizens from outrage. They also might add to the revenue of the county by the collection of licenses from the whisky-sellers, who generally purchase the privilege of selling rot-gut from these military companies. Merely a hint, however, we think our treasury would be none the lighter were the effort made.
