Rise in Real Estate.—Real estate in this vicinity has received quite an impetus during the past few months, mainly from the fact that ours is the most charming valley in the State, and also the presence of the railroad, now in course of construction from Saucelito northward. Mrs Ann McLaughlin who has a tract of over one hundred acres on a "barren mountain top" in the vicinity of the Red Hill has been offered $40 per acre for the same, while Forbes has been selling from $75 to $125 per acre, notwithstanding suit has been, or will be, commenced by Dixon to recover the lands held by him in this place.

Saucelito.—Many improvements have been made at this place since the commencement of work by the San Francisco and Humboldt Bay Railroad Company. The wharf is nearly, if not quite completed, and a steamer is now plying between that point and San Francisco, making four round trips daily. Building sites have risen in value, and Saucelito, that insignificant little town which has lain dormant for so many years past now seems to have a brilliant future awaiting it. When the the railroad is completed and the steam-whistle heard echoing through our vales and cañons, dispatching freight from the upper coast to the terminus at that point the busy activity will convince many that "something can be done in Saucelito." Many years ago old residents were wont to deride Story, whose name has been identified with Saucelito since '49, for so transactionally holding on to lots in that place with the prospect of the town rising into importance—but now see where the laugh comes in. Story, we learn has been offered thirty thousand dollars for his land at that point.

to Northern. They intend dividing the land up into small farms and offering it for sale in the Eastern markets.

—A San Francisco correspondent of the N. Y. Observer, to illustrate the diversity of language used in that city, says that he entered a shop to have his boots mended and said to the proprietor, an Italian: "You speak English?" The reply was, "Si, Senor—certainment—You bet!"

—The Chicago Post is of the opinion that whatever else the Managers may or may not prove against the President, they have certainly convicted him of high crimes and misdemeanors against the English language.

—On the Impeachment vote seven Republican Senators voted with the Democrats—Fessenden, Trumbull, Grimes, Henderson, Fowler, Van Winkle and Ross. This was on the eleventh article.

—Mrs. Muffles says it is "dre'ful" hard to lose a husband. She never got used to it until she lost her fourth. Practice makes perfect.

—Somebody in St. Louis calls some things by their right names. He has recently opened a whisky saloon, which he designated as the "Hellery."

—An eccentric clergyman lately said in one of his sermons that "about the commonest proof we have that man is made of clay is the brick so often found in his hat."

—A little girl, watching a cloud of dust in our streets, driven before the wind, exclaimed to her mother: "See, there is dust enough wasted to make several people."

—The net gain of the gambling institutions in New York City it is said amount to not less than $10,000,000 annually.

—The printing of the impeachment tickets alone cost $2,000. To print the trial as pub. doc. will cost $100,000.
